

STATE OF TEXAS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

Greetings:

As Governor of Texas, I welcome all in attendance at the National Black Pre-Law Admissions & Preparation Conference and Law Fair in Houston.

Law school is not for the faint of heart — it involves tough classes taught by tough professors. Potential law students must be well-informed and well-prepared for such a challenge, which makes events such as this conference very important.

This 4th annual event brings together law school administrators and legal professionals from all over the country to provide participants with as much information and expertise as possible. There is no better place to receive expert instruction or network with others with mutual interests.

First Lady Anita Perry joins me in hoping you all have an enjoyable and informative event.

Sincerely,
